

Refund Policy: Wealth Spread - Affiliate

30-Day Action-Based Refund Guarantee Clarifications

To qualify for our 30-day action-based refund, participants must create an Instagram page dedicated to the wealth or luxury niche and take specific actions within the first 30 days. These actions include:

- Consistent Content Uploads: You are required to maintain a 25-day upload streak on your Instagram account, posting one video per day. These videos will be provided by our software and are integral to your participation in the program.

Refund Process

To initiate a refund request, please provide a direct link to your Instagram page by contacting our support team at jiri.marik@wealthspread.org within 30 days of your purchase. This will allow us to review your activities and verify that you have met the necessary criteria.

Exclusions

Refunds will not be granted to individuals who fail to upload the videos provided by our software consistently as part of their daily posts.

Additional Notes

- Refund Processing Time: Please allow up to 21 business days for the processing of your refund once it has been approved.
- Extension Option: If you contact us within your 5-day trial period, we are willing to extend your free trial for an additional 5 days to ensure you have ample time to evaluate our program.
- Cancellation Process: To cancel your subscription, please log into your whop account, navigate to 'orders', find our product name, and select the option to either pause or cancel your subscription.

Revision Notification

- Any modifications to this refund policy will be communicated to you via email, ensuring you are always informed of our latest terms.

Support for Non-Refundable Cases

- Should your refund request be denied, our customer success manager will reach out to you. They will provide assistance and answer any questions you may have to support your journey towards achieving your goals.
