
Refund Policy – Recession Proof

At Recession Proof, we strive to provide high-quality financial literacy resources and services to empower our customers. We understand that circumstances may change, and we want to ensure transparency regarding our refund policy.

1. No Refund Policy

All purchases made through Recession Proof are non-refundable. Due to the nature of our digital products, educational content, and services, we do not offer refunds or exchanges once access has been granted.

2. Exceptions

Refunds may only be considered under the following exceptional circumstances:

- Duplicate Transactions: If you were accidentally charged twice for the same purchase, please contact us within 7 days of the transaction for a refund review.
- Technical Access Issues: If you experience technical difficulties that prevent access to the purchased content and our support team is unable to resolve the issue, a refund may be considered.
- Billing Errors: If a billing error occurred on our end, we will promptly review and correct the charge if necessary.

3. Dispute Resolution

If you have concerns about a purchase, we encourage you to reach out to our customer support team before initiating a dispute with your payment provider. We will make every effort to resolve your concerns fairly.

4. Contact Us

For any refund-related inquiries, please email us at Help@recessionproofxtreme.com with your purchase details and a description of the issue. Requests will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.
