

Terms of Service

This Terms of Service agreement applies to The Market Lens LLC, referred to throughout as "we," "our," or "us." By joining, accessing, or using our educational and community-based services hosted through Whop, you agree to the following terms in full.

Who We Are and What We Provide

We provide private trading education and community access through a platform hosted by Whop. Our offering includes video lessons, written materials, and access to a private community where users may engage with the content and each other. We do not provide investment advice, trading signals, or performance guarantees of any kind. Everything offered is strictly educational and intended to support personal learning and development.

User Access and Responsibility

Access to our materials is provided through a verified Whop membership. Users are responsible for maintaining control of their Whop account and should not share login credentials or content with others. Sharing of private content, account credentials, or internal community material with anyone outside the platform is a violation of this agreement and may result in permanent account termination.

Subscription Structure

We offer access through recurring billing plans, including monthly and quarterly options, as well as a one-time lifetime access option. All billing and account management are handled through Whop. It is the user's responsibility to manage their subscription status, including cancellations, before renewal dates. We do not manage subscription changes on behalf of users.

Content Ownership and Use

All materials within The Market Lens, including but not limited to video lessons, written documents, frameworks, community posts, and any downloadable content, are the exclusive intellectual property of The Market Lens LLC. You are not permitted to copy, redistribute, reproduce, screen-record, or share any of this content outside of your own account. Doing so will result in immediate removal and potential legal action.

Limitation of Liability

You understand and agree that your participation in The Market Lens is entirely voluntary. We are not liable for any outcomes associated with your trading, financial decisions, or interpretation of any educational materials provided. Any examples shared are purely illustrative and should not be interpreted as trading advice or financial guidance. You are fully responsible for your own use of the materials.

Account Termination

We reserve the right to suspend or terminate any user's access to the platform if they are found to be in violation of these terms, including content misuse, abuse of community resources, or unethical conduct. No refunds will be issued in the event of a termination for cause.
