Disclaimer & User Responsibility

Icarus Trading Algo is not responsible for any denied payouts from proprietary trading firms, breaches of account rules, or financial losses incurred — including the loss of live trading capital. By using our algorithm, you acknowledge that trading involves significant risk and that you should never trade with funds you cannot afford to lose.

The performance of the algorithm is not guaranteed, and results may vary. This tool is designed to assist with trading strategies, not to serve as a guaranteed path to profits or a “get rich quick” scheme. The user assumes full responsibility for the outcomes resulting from the use of the algo, including adherence to trading rules, risk management, and decision-making. Refunds will not be issued due to failed accounts, breached rules, or poor trading results.
