≡ Description End User License Agreement

Last updated: Jan 30, 2025

1. License Grant

Grid grants you a non-exclusive, non-transferable, worldwide license to use, display, and publish the final exported web assets for your personal or commercial use.

2. Ownership & Restrictions

- You own the rights to the final exported website, including HTML/CSS and other rendered outputs.
- You do not own or receive access to the editable working files (e.g., layered Framer projects, Figma, Sketch), unless explicitly agreed in writing prior to project kickoff.
- You may not:

- Sell, sublicense, or redistribute the deliverables to third parties
  - Claim authorship of Grid's original work
  - Reverse engineer or attempt to extract working files from published projects

3. Third-Party Assets

If your website includes third-party fonts, images, scripts, or other licensed resources, you are responsible for ensuring proper usage rights and licenses are in place for those assets.

4. Term & Termination

This license becomes effective upon final delivery and remains valid unless:

- You breach any term of this Agreement
- You attempt to use the design in a way that violates our Licensing & Ownership policy

In such cases, Grid may revoke your usage rights without notice.

5. Disclaimer

Grid is not liable for any loss, damage, or business interruption resulting from the use of the final deliverables.

6. Portfolio Rights

Grid reserves the right to showcase final designs in its portfolio and social channels unless confidentiality is explicitly requested in writing.
