FINANCIAL DISCLAIMERS:

NFA required disclaimer

Trading futures and options is a challenging and potentially profitable opportunity for educated and experienced investors. However, before deciding to participate in the futures and options market(s), you should carefully consider your investment objectives, level of experience and risk appetite. There is considerable exposure to risk in futures and options transactions. Any transaction involves risks including, but not limited to, the potential for changing political and/or economic conditions that may substantially affect the price or liquidity of a market. Moreover, the leveraged nature of futures and options trading means that any market movement will have an equally proportional effect on your deposited funds. This may work against you as well as for you. The possibility exists that you could sustain a total loss of initial margin funds and your position will be liquidated and you will be responsible for any resulting losses. Investors are recommended to lower exposure to risk by employing risk-reducing strategies.

TJRTrades will not be held responsible for the reliability or accuracy of the information available on our website(s) or distributed information such as, but not limited to our alerts. We assume that you are legally permitted to use our products. Making sure that you are following the global and your local laws and legislations is your responsibility. We cannot be held responsible for any damages or lawsuits against you do to such regulations. All financial trading involves significant risk.

You are solely responsible for all trading profit or loss

Only you are responsible for the trades you take, including trades taken through automated trading systems you may in any manner employ.

You alone are ultimately and completely responsible for all testing and quality assurance of all trading systems, methods and technologies you may employ, and you alone bear the full profit or loss of any and all trading activities you may undertake

Risk of trading futures, options, equities, and forex

There is a significant risk of loss in futures, forex, equities, and options trading - including trades taken online. Trade only with capital you can afford to lose. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. Nothing on this website or that we may separately convey is intended to be a recommendation to buy or sell any market or instrument. All information has been obtained from sources and methods which are believed to be reliable, but accuracy and thoroughness cannot be guaranteed. You alone are solely responsible for how to use the information and for the results. TJR TRADES or 1of1Funding LLC does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of any information or any analysis based thereon.

Hypothetical performance

Hypothetical performance results have many inherent limitations, some of which are described below. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those shown. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between hypothetical performance results and the actual results subsequently achieved by any particular trading program.

One of the limitations of hypothetical performance results is that they are generally prepared with the benefit of hindsight. In addition, hypothetical trading does not involve financial risk, and no hypothetical trading record can completely account for the impact of financial risk in actual trading. For example, the ability to withstand losses or to adhere to a particular trading program in spite of trading losses are material points which can also adversely affect actual trading results. There are numerous other factors related to the markets in general or to the implementation of any specific trading program which cannot be fully accounted for in the preparation of hypothetical performance results and all of which can adversely affect actual trading results.

TJR TRADES or 1of1Funding LLC does not trade actual accounts for clients. Because there are no actual trading results to compare to any hypothetical performance results to in advance of live trading, clients should be particularly wary of placing undue reliance on hypothetical performance results. Commission Rule 4.41(c)(1) applies to "any publication, distribution or broadcast of any report, letter, circular, memorandum, publication, writing, advertisement or other literature...."

Commission Rule 4.41(b) prohibits any person from presenting the performance of any simulated or hypothetical futures account or futures interest of a CTA, unless the presentation is accompanied by a disclosure statement. The statement describes the limitations of simulated or hypothetical futures trading as a guide to the performance that a CTA is likely to achieve in actual trading.

Additional risk disclosure for systems traders

Commission Rule 4.41(b)(1)(I) hypothetical or simulated performance results have certain inherent limitations. Unlike an actual performance record, simulated results do not represent actual trading. Also, since the trades have not actually been executed, the results may have under-compensated or over-compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity. Simulated trading programs in general are also subject to the fact that they are designed with the benefit of hindsight. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses. There have been no promises, guarantees or warranties suggesting that any trading will.
